- 6. Designing an Internal Governance Framework

1. Ethics and Corporate Governance

(NFQ level 9, 10 ECTS)

This module looks at the corporate governance best practice principles and their application in both a financial services and a general organisational setting. It also aims to provide you with a deeper understanding and appreciation of the ethical dimension of corporate governance and, in doing so, stresses the importance of corporate culture to the longevity of organisations. In considering the behaviours and decision-making processes of individuals, groups, and specifically those charged with governing organisations, the module offers approaches for dealing with common ethical dilemmas and ethical crises.

2. Managing for Compliance

(NFQ level 9, 10 ECTS)

Compliance is a core function in financial services firms and is recognised by regulators as an essential part of the control infrastructure. Indeed the role of compliance and indeed the compliance manager/officer as a trusted adviser to the business has become a key differentiator for many firms. This module examines the development of compliance as an assurance function and evaluates its strategic role in an organisation in aligning with the business and delivering value. It also focuses on specific issues relevant to managing a compliance function to ensure it fulfils its assurance role within an organisation.

3. Financial / White-Collar Crime Prevention

(NFQ level 9, 10 ECTS)

Financial and cyber-crime poses a major threat to the financial services sector and its clients. This module considers the offence of financial/white collar crime which is committed by or against an individual or corporation and results in a financial loss. The various forms this crime can take are examined and best practice techniques to manage and control such risks are discussed. The module will introduce a number of topics and suggested methodologies but also requires input from your professional experience to develop a best-practice approach in order to counteract, hinder and ultimately safeguard individuals and corporations from fraud in the financial system. It is particularly relevant to those working in AML and managing against financial and cyber-crime, including those in PCF 52 Head of Anti-Money Laundering and Counter Terrorist Financing roles.

4. Data Protection Policies and Procedures

(NFQ level 9, 10 ECTS)

Data protection and data privacy is still very much in the minds of all organisations. This module will provide you with the tools to understand and navigate an increasingly complex and challenging environment for the controllers and processors of personal data. It considers Irish and EU data protection law and the compliance burdens on data controllers, with the enhanced subjects rights, supervision and enforcement enacted in GDPR 2018. Data Controllers are accountable and have to keep records and conduct impact assessments. This module will provide you with the tools to understand and navigate an increasingly complex and challenging environment for the controllers and processors of personal data. The module is important for all working in data protection and, in particular for, those working in organisations who must appoint a Data Protection Officer.

5. The Regulatory Landscape

(NFQ level 9, 10 ECTS)

This module discusses the rationale for financial services regulation. It also provides a framework of the regulatory landscape from a local, European and global perspective. You will be able to critically analyse and evaluate the regulatory response in the wake of the global financial crisis. The module will consider emerging trends impacting the compliance professional.

6. Designing an Internal Governance Framework

(NFQ level 9, 10 ECTS)

The module seeks to establish a best practice approach in the design of internal governance frameworks for financial service providers. This applied module considers all aspects of the three lines of defence model and the board director’s interaction with this framework. This module will build on the Ethics and Corporate Governance module in exploring how good governance should be embedded in the organisation. These considerations are placed in the context of the organisation implementing strategy devised by the board of directors within the risk culture and risk appetite.

7. Compliance Leadership

(NFQ level 9, 5 ECTS)

This module aims to enhance and further develop the soft skills of the compliance professional. It will look at Leadership skills, Conflict Negotiation techniques and Communication skills to support the compliance professional in managing their responsibilities across the organisation.

8. Research Methods and Methodology

(NFQ level 9, 5 ECTS)

The purpose of this module is to prepare you to be able to plan and execute an action based research project. It begins by developing students’ ability to synthesise a literature review. It develops your ability to understand, critique and select an appropriate research methodology, and generate data with the aim of evaluating findings from an academic and professional perspective.

9. Applied Project

(NFQ level 9, 20 ECTS)

The applied project provides an opportunity to integrate your learning from previous modules. It is a comprehensive project with a strong focus on practical application. By assimilating all the skills and knowledge you have acquired from the programme, the project’s aim is to enable you to critically evaluate an existing compliance framework. It will also enable you to design and make recommendations on how to develop an optimal compliance model and integrate it effectively within the internal governance framework of the organisation.

Note: The Applied Project is double-weighted (20 ECTS rather than 10 ECTS) and accordingly, the workload is double that of a standard module.

 The educational programmes offered by IOB are rich in substance, and you can learn from industry experts and harness their practical knowledge from the comfort of your home. My learning journey with IOB equipped me to deal with the daily challenges of my profession with confidence. I highly recommend it to anyone trying to further their career in Compliance.”
